On June 8, 2022, the OPO received an online complaint.

The complainant alleges: On [REDACTED] around [REDACTED] my self [REDACTED] and another person by the name of [REDACTED] were approached by an officer demanding to open the back doors then loudly yelling about drugs and guns who then said something about the registration was expired pulled the driver out of the car immediately handcuffing him . Then came and pulled me out the car . Officer [REDACTED] then said he was going to pat me down before I could respond he was already patting me down. Then did the same thing again before I could respond he started patting me down on my upper chest area. As I felt really uncomfortable and knowing I did not give him consent to even pat me down being a girl . There was also a lady officer [REDACTED] on scene who just stood there and watched. Then searched the car found nothing . Let us go with no ticket . I had no clue to why we were even stopped until the driver told me after we were leaving . It felt like harassment . Officer [REDACTED] made me very uncomfortable and should have never patted me down . I'm scared to leave my house due to this incident thinking the cops are gonna jump out again and just start opening doors like if they're about to drag us out of the car . The incident happened at [REDACTED] .
