ICMS #: 2023-0223

On March 17, 2023, the OPO received an in-person complaint.

The complainant alleges: There has been multiple police reports filed, to which an appropriate response has yet to have been met. Looking at on clarifying what's needful under the provision of how to objectifyingly utilize the objections of the Texas penal code. There has been a lack of handling the police reports I have filed over the past [REDACTED] weeks. I have been needing to speak directly with a human trafficking detective during that time. During which time there has been a lack of adherence to the information disseminated to multiple officers to appropriately and professionally be in the acceptance of the information given and further giving the appropriate appointment to the right detective dept. [REDACTED] there was a very neglectful response on the part of Officer [REDACTED] at the [REDACTED] unit. The response was very generalized and diffusion and lacked any depth of adherence to what was being said. After a very unprofessional response he attempted to threaten me saying if I returned to the unit I would be charged with criminal trespassing. Case # [REDACTED] (some numbers illegible, see complaint form)

Upon leaving the unit I experienced a recurrence of the same harassing behavior due to the situation not being handled correctly. I went back to the same police station [REDACTED] to file a police report only to have two other police officers arrive shortly after I arrived there obviously attempting to position themselves so that I would speak directly to them and when I spoke to them about the situation they were very subversive about the things that took place inappropriately and attempted to justify the officers lack of professionalism by not sending the case appropriately to the human trafficking dept. But to a unit that had none of my corresponding consideration to justify the officers' lack of professionalism. Please look at the case number for officers spoken to on [REDACTED]

Please refer to the intake recording for more information.
