NOTICE OF COMPLAINT

August 5, 2022

ICMS #: 2022-0632

On August 1, 2022, the OPO received an email complaint.

The complainant alleges: Subject: Faulty officer visitation

██████████ at about ██████████, I called in a potential domestic disturbance at ██████████. I was asked if I would like police contact and I explicitly said "no" to which the dispatcher replied that it was fine. About 30 minutes later, an officer, whose name and badge number I did not get, knocked on my door, looking upset that he had been pulled away from something extremely important. Please, ensure that next time someone asks to not be engaged by an officer, that they are not. It felt extremely invasive to provide my personal information in confidence thinking that I would not be visited, only to be woken up once again by a single middle aged officed knocking on my door. I also explicitly told the dispatcher near the end of our call that it was broken up, so the onus of calling off a police presence should not have been on me, especially when the hotline says not to hang up after calling. Happy to schedule a follow up call if anyone would like to speak more
